A great place to work and play!

A reason for every season: outdoor activities abound

edcoe.org
El Dorado County is one of the most diverse places you’ll ever visit, spanning across more than 1,800 square miles with elevations ranging from just a few feet to more than 10,000 feet above sea level.

Rich in history and with a wide variety of recreational choices, there is something for everyone in El Dorado County.
El Dorado Hills
The westward view opens to a vista of the Sacramento Valley and Folsom Lake. The higher ridges through the community offer spectacular views of the Sierra Nevada Mountains. It is a community that offers visitors the amenities of shops, hotels, services, entertainment, restaurants, and more.

Placerville
As a historic town, Placerville has tons of fascinating attractions. Moving to Placerville means you'll get the perfect chance to see lots of historic attractions and enjoy a peaceful lifestyle without being too far away from Sacramento.

South Lake Tahoe
Stunning natural scenery along the shores of North America's Largest Alpine Lake is just one of the draws for anyone considering moving to Lake Tahoe. The area is home to breathtaking views, sandy beaches, majestic mountain ranges and endless options of things to see and do!

Serving as El Dorado County Superintendent of Schools is an honor and privilege. El Dorado County is a beautiful area, rich with history and a powerful sense of community. Dreams were born during the Gold Rush and drive our hopes for our children today. We believe in our students, their potential, and embrace the vision that they will positively impact our community and beyond.

It is an important time to focus on what inspires our students to make good choices, to look out for one another, and build positive relationships.

This motivation is fostered in environments where students feel cared for, receive encouragement, and share a common vision of a bright future. Our schools strive to do just that in many ways – both inside and outside the classroom – and it shows.

There are countless examples of how our educators provide innovative and engaging experiences to our students, so they are prepared to be successful in college, a career, and in the community. As the world rapidly changes, so does our education system. It is important that EDCOE provides leadership and support to our 15 school districts.

With an emphasis on local control and positive student outcomes for every child, it is a privilege to be County Superintendent at this momentous time. I welcome and embrace the opportunity to help make our students’ dreams a reality.

Serving Our Students, Schools and Community

EDCOE offers a variety of services to many county-wide programs and 15 school districts. In doing so, the organization enriches the lives of more than 27,000 students by helping close the achievement gap and meet regulatory and educational standards.

EDCOE also operates its own programs which directly support more than 3,000 students through early childcare and development, charter school programs, or special education services.

Collaborative partnerships between EDCOE, government agencies, and community organizations maximize taxpayer dollars in order to provide additional cost-effective assistance and opportunities to students and the community.
